

INFRASTRUCTURE INVESTMENT

Posted on December 5, 2016

The pipeline setting out over £500 billion worth of infrastructure investment was published today.

The government has today published a new National Infrastructure and Construction Pipeline, setting out over £500 billion worth of planned private and public investment over this Parliament and beyond with more than 40% of the pipeline being delivered thanks to government investment.

This new fund includes infrastructure investments of over £2.6 billion to improve transport networks; a multi-million pound package to accelerate the future of broadband, and £7.2 billion to support the construction of new homes.
